PUBLICATIONS

Organization in the Home Office: Where to Start? – 2020

The Healthy Home Office Collection is a collection of texts prepared by people from different parts of Brazil with the aim of making this ebook an instrument in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. It is a work made by people for people. We thank the authors for voluntarily dedicating their time to writing, the volunteers who carried out the editing, correction and everything necessary for the work to become a reality. This work is an extension of the efforts made during Home Office Week prepared by Startup Donna Home Tech and Cocreation Lab. Special thanks to the United States Embassy in Brazil and the alumni association USBEA - United States-Brazil Exchange Alumni, which through the Fund quick response alumni for virtual projects made the publication of this ebook possible. We also thank Inova Contestado, an Innovation Center located in the city of Caçador-SC, for their support.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Yerlon Magalhães Front-End Developer at Dell Lead | Manager at STB Desenvolvimento Tecnológicos Ltda

Emanuela proved to be a very hard-working and proactive professional, carrying out development tasks that were quite complex for her level of knowledge at the time. Managed to develop Front-End structures for the system in a timely manner, according to the prototype and business rules raised.

Furthermore, he helped with the maintenance of existing modules of the system, where he demonstrated quick learning capacity and an excellent ability to work as a team with other project collaborators.

He also has the ability to analyze problems and suggest improvements and solutions. Additionally, he is a charismatic and easy-going person, with excellent communication skills.
